It has come to our attention that the editorial: “International mobility of workers: new forms, processes, and outcomes”, that was due to be published in a special section of Personnel Review, Vol. 46 No. 2, 2017 and accompany papers on the same topic, did not appear in the final issue line-up. This occurred through a Publisher error. The Publisher sincerely apologise for this. The editorial piece has now been added to the electronic version of the issue.
