INDEX

Academic disciplines, question of, 17–19
Academic specialization, 131
American Federation of Teachers (AFT), 90
Appalachia, 70–71
  imagined, 62–64
Appalachian dichotomy, 63
Appalachian identity and resistance, 35–37
Appalachian region, research and, 4–6
Appalachian Regional Commission, 4, 62
Arab Spring, 34
Archives, 19

Bigger picture, 102–103
Black Lives Matter, 34
Bricolage, 72
  using qualitative and interpretivist methods for critical inquiry, 73–74 spirit of ethnography, 74–77 Collective action, 35, 41–50, 61
  implications for, 53–54
  and LIS, 38–39
  theory, 30–32, 54
Collective identity, 58–59
  importance of, 116–118
  and LIS, 39–40
  sense of, 109
Comps process, 124–125
Comte's philosophy, 67
Constructivist grounded theory concept, 81
Contemporary social movements, 50, 52–53
Creativity, 127–129
Critical inquiry, 20–23
  using qualitative and interpretivist methods for, 73–74
Critical self-reflection, 23
Critical theory, 49, 69, 73
  and LIS, 37–38
Crowd-sourced strike, 28

Data analysis process, 66, 79–81
Democracy, promise of, 54–55
Democratic process, 108
Dialectical thinking, 20–23
  and critical perspective, 48–50
Digital communications technologies, 54
Digital information and communication technologies, 20, 119
Digital technologies, 28, 55

Education, 103
  issues of social justice in LIS scholarship and, 3–4 Enlightenment
  program, 67
  rationalism, 67
Ethnography, spirit of, 74–77

Facebook, 57, 93–94, 97, 106–107, 115
False dichotomies, 46–48
Feminist scholarship, 68
#55Strong, 99–101
Frankfurt School, 38

Global pandemic, research in midst of, 122–124
Graduate school, 9
Grassroots model, 47
Great Refusal, 49
Grounded theory, 79

Higher education, 11–12
Humanity, embracing our, 126–127

Immanent transcendence, 68–70
Information, 18, 127, 129
  organizations, 44
  sciences, 19
Information and communication technologies (ICTs), 28, 31, 41, 59, 111
Insurance, 92–93
Internet, 57
Interpretivist methods for critical inquiry, 73–74
Interview process, 77
iSchool movement, 19

Knowledge, pursuit of, 15–17

Labor strike, 20
Labor unions, 63
Library and information sciences (LIS), 1 collective action and, 38–39 collective identity and, 39–40 critical theory and, 37–38 issues of social justice in LIS scholarship and education, 3–4
  question of academic disciplines and LIS perspective, 17–19
  theoretical implications for field of, 37

Marketplace, 11–12
Methodological conundrum critical perspective and, 67–72
Modernity, 45
Museums, 19
Mystery and wonder contradictions of my own position, 13–15 dialectical thinking, critical inquiry, and transcendence, 20–23 higher education and marketplace, 11–12 pursuit of knowledge, 15–17
  question of academic disciplines and LIS perspective, 17–19
  reflective journey, 23–26

Occupy movement, 116
Occupy Wall Street, 34, 47
Online social networking, 59 technologies, 52

Personal interviews, 77
Place, 61
Place-based identity, 60–62
Positive philosophy, 66
Postmodern philosophical paradigm, 16
Private group Facebook pages, 113
Public Employees Insurance Agency (PEIA), 92, 102, 106
Public libraries, 38–39, 44
Puzzle of academic research building bricolage, 72–77 critical perspective and methodological conundrum, 67–72
  data analysis, 79–81
  immanent transcendence, 68–70
  methods of research, 77–81
  sampling and procedures, 78–79 slaying positivist father, 66–67
  sociopolitical positionality, 70–72
  unruly doubts and tumultuous realities, 81–84

Qualitative methods, 67
  for critical inquiry, 73–74
Quantitative method, 67

Rational thought models, 44
Rationalism
  importance of collective identity, 116–118
  social media and strike, 113–114
  strike as successful failure, 114–116
  transcendent moment, 118–119

Rationality, 131
Recruitment process, 82
Reduction in force (RIF), 91
Reflective journey
  embracing connection, 129–132
  embracing creativity, 127–129
  embracing our humanity, 126–127 particular form of torture, 124–126
  research in midst of global pandemic, 122–124 toward new possibilities, 126
Refusal/resistance, 62–64
Resistance, appalachian identity and, 35–37
Respect, 97
Right-to-work laws, 28

Self-interest, overcoming problem of, 42–44
Social justice in LIS scholarship and education, issues of, 3
Social media, 6, 19–20, 34, 52–56, 60, 112–114, 119
  Appalachian identity and resistance, 35–37
  critical perspective of social media and protest, 55–58
  decline of institutions and rise of social media, 32–35 and identity, 59–60
  impact on strike, 107–108
  platforms, 31
  revolutions, 115
  role in strike, 105–106
  theoretical implications for field of LIS, 37–40 understanding collective action, 30–32
Social movements, 41–59, 119
Social networking sites, 52
Sociopolitical positionality, 70–72
Story
  assembling, 87–88
  processing, 105
  role of social media in strike, 105–106 sense of collective identity, 109 impact of social media on strike, 107–108 Storytelling, 89
  beginnings, 89
  bigger picture, 102–103
  caught in middle, 91–92
  Facebook, 93–94
  #55Strong, 99–101
  importance of, 85–87
  information, 95–96
  insurance, 92–93
  kids, 103–105
  on strike, 93
  talking about union can be complicated, 90–91
Strikes, 28, 113–114
  impact of social media on, 107–108
  social media role in, 105–106
  as successful failure, 114–116
Striking teachers, 109

Techno-centrism and modern world, 50–51
Technology, 50–58
  technology-driven networks, 32
Theoretical and epistemological frameworks collective action and social movements, 41 collective identity, place, and refusal, 58 collective identity and social movements, 58–59
  critical perspective of social media and protest, 55–58
  false dichotomies, 46–48
  imagined Appalachia and refusal/resistance, 62–64 implications for collective action, 53–54 meaning in contradiction, 48–50 overcoming problem of self-interest, 42–44
  place-based identity, 60–62

rationalism, modernity, and discontents, 44–46
social media and contemporary social movements, 52–53 social media and identity, 59–60
social media and promise of democracy, 54–55
techno-centrism and modern world, 50–51 technology and social movements, 50
Traditional information organizations, 19
Transcendence, 20–23
Transcendent moment, 118–119
Two-county regional library system, 2

Union leaders, 113
University of Tennessee-Knoxville (UTK), 2

West Virginia Education Association (WVEA), 90
West Virginia teachers' strike (2018), 6–7, 19, 25, 27, 41, 105, 111–112, 116
West Virginia's identity, 64
Wildcat strike, 28
Witnessing contemporary movements, 72

Zoom online meeting platform, 79